

New column

Hooray for the new column on women and religion by Lynne Bundesen!

The two topics are a dynamite combination, and I plan to read the column every week. Kevin Starr was occasionally readable, but more often elitist, male chauvinist, and irrelevant. Bundesen will be a great improvement.

Anne Eggebrotten
Daly City